

Non-Student Participation in PTSA

Updated Oct 21 2015

The Emily Dickinson PTSA programs accept non-Dickinson/Explorer students who reside within the Dickinson school attendance area (as determined by the Lake Washington School District) and are eligible to attend Dickinson, but who are either home-schooled or attend other area schools.

Eligible children may participate in extracurricular and other programs, i.e Theater productions, on a space available basis. In the event of over-enrollment, students enrolled at Emily Dickinson/Explorer will be given first priority for slots, followed by students in the attendance area who are home-schooled. Any remaining slots will be filled by other children in the community.

Non-Dickinson/Explorer students are subject to the same requirements and fees as those students who attend Dickinson/Explorer.
